

How I created my clarifai account ?

First I signed in into ibm with the required email id and password ,and then go to projects, then access resources ,then guided projects, then go to workspace and then click pre requities in that click create an account in clarifai. In that you will see a click here and signin up for the platform then it will redirect you to its login page .Then create a account enter your name valid email address and password which should match the rules given and then create your own account account.An verification mail will be sent to your specified email address to confirm your login.To update your profile click on the last icon on the left bottom corner click profile ,there you get a screen where you enter your username job title country .if you want to change your passwords the options are listed below after finishing all the required changes you can confirm and update your profile info.After your done with all your changes you can sign out by clicking the same icon and click sign out.

